THE GREAT PLOT.

Another Jury-fixer Arrested at Chicago.

An Attempt to Steal Ralph Waldo Emerson's Remains.

Republicans Have a Majority in the Montana Legislature.

The Crusade Against Electric-light Wires in New York Again Plunges the City in Darkness.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The Grand Jury was impaneled this morning to hear further evidence in the Cronin jury bribery case. Bailiffs Hanks and Solomon, Gauger O. Donnell and Tom Kavanaugh were called on and testified. It is understooe that Kavanaugh and Lawyer Beggs and one of the men on trial for the Cronin murder made a full confession. At any rate, this afternoon the Grand Jury returned indictments against John Graham, clerk and confidential man for the noted criminal lawyer, A. S. Trude, for complicity in jury-bribing and conspiracy, and also true bills against the six men indicted Saturday. Graham was arrested last night.

Said one of the State's Attorney's assistants today: "Bailiffs Solomon and Hanks and Tom Kavanaugh have agreed to tell all they know regarding the plot. We are sure, therefore, of reaching the head and front of the conspiracy."

Graham was the man who was to put up the money with which to bribe jurors. It is asserted by Judge Longenecker that the evidence against them will be very conclusive. After presenting the indictments the Grand Jury adjourned for the afternoon, but the State's Attorney says the case by no means ends with the present indictment, but will be more far-reaching than the most sanguine can suppose. Other indictments may be expected in short order.

The indictment returned by the Grand Jury this afternoon is a joint bill against J. Graham, Mark Salomon, Alexander L. Hanks and Fred W. Smith. After making the return the jury adjourned until tomorrow. But little information about Graham could be secured at the office of Lawyer Trude, where Graham had a desk. He has been here 12 or 14 years. The other occupants of the office were surprised to hear of his connection with the case.

It was learned this evening that Graham is supposed to be the "prominent citizen," whose arrest last night gave rise to many surmises. He gave bonds in $10,000, and was released.

THE MONTANA ELECTION.

The Republicans Have a Majority in the Legislature.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The Examiner's Helena (Mont.) special says: In counting the vote in Silver Bow county today the Board of Canvassers threw out a precinct which gave 174 Democratic majority. By this action the Republicans secure the entire legislative delegation in that county, numbering 11 members, giving them a majority on joint ballot in the Legislature.

The returns on their face show that the Democrats would have had five majority on joint ballot. The grounds on which the precinct was rejected are that there were three instead of five judges of election; that the count was conducted by three judges in secret, the clerks being excluded, and the returns showed more votes counted than polled.

Judge De Wolfe has been appealed to by the Democrats for a writ of mandamus to compel the Board of Canvassers to count the rejected precinct.

HELENA (Mont.), Oct. 14.—The Independent (Dem.) says: The canvassers in Silver Bow county today threw out the vote in what is known as the railroad precinct, which gave a Democratic majority of 174. This action, if upheld by the courts, will seat the entire Republican delegation from that county. The 11 members overcome the Democratic majority in the Legislature and give the Republicans control of the Legislature. The Democratic managers will ask for a writ of mandamus to compel the canvassers to count the rejected precinct. The throwing out of this vote while reducing Toole's vote for Governor does not overcome his majority.

THE SOUTHERN GUESTS.

How Erastus Wiman Got in His Little Speech.

BUFFALO, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] William E. Curtis, manager of the Pan-American excursion, is much exercised over the results of Erastus Wiman's dinner to the delegates at Niagara Falls last night. Curtis says Wiman was one of the Committee of Entertainment at New York, and subsequently asked that he be allowed to give the delegates a dinner at Niagara Falls. Curtis replied that Blaine's instructions were that no formalities would be enforced on Sunday during the trip, and that delegates be allowed to do as they liked on that day. It was finally arranged that Wiman's dinner should be entirely informal, and that there should be no speeches. Curtis says, notwithstanding this, Wiman left copies of his proposed speech with the newspapers in New York before leaving. Curtis telegraphed Blaine that Wiman had acted in bad faith.

The party reached here from Niagara Falls this morning, and were driven in carriages to the City Hall and received by the Mayor and others. Then they drove about the city.

At the Niagara Hotel the delegates had the first Spanish dinner on their trip. Every effort was made to give a tropical aspect to the entertainment. After luncheon the party was driven to one of the highest buildings in the city where a fine view was had of Lake Erie, Buffalo harbor and the suburbs. The grain elevators were also seen in operation. Next in order of entertainment was a reception at the Board of Trade rooms.

RAILWAY ENGINEERS.

The Coming Convention—Chief Arthur Opposes Federation.

DENVER (Colo.), Oct. 14.—Fifty delegates to the National Convention of Locomotive Engineers, which convenes here on Wednesday, arrived today. Chief Arthur and First Grand Engineer Graham with other officers are expected in the morning.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14.—Chief Arthur who is on his way to Denver to attend the coming convention of engineers said: "It will be the most important ever held in the Brotherhood. The question of federation with other labor organizations will be decided. I am opposed to federation, and if the order is not maintained separate and distinct from all other organizations, the engineers must look for a new chief."

ST. PAUL (Minn.), Oct. 14.—The first meeting of the annual convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Brakemen was held here last night, but no actual business can be transacted till tomorrow. The Committee on Credentials will then report. The sessions will be secret, except that of tonight which was public and was in the nature of a reception to the delegates.

THE WIRES MUST GO.

A Large Part of New York City in Darkness.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—It has been decided that all electric light wires above ground must go. No injunction can be served on the Board of Health unless eight days' notice is given, and should the courts make the injunctions permanent, the Board of Health will take the matter in hand and before eight days not a wire will be left above ground.

The Supreme Court being occupied with other cases, argument on the injunction was postponed until tomorrow. Counsel for the United States and Brush companies announce that meanwhile the current would be shut off from a large number of their circuits, so that no danger would exist. As a result, a large section of the city is in darkness tonight, all electric lights south of Fifty-ninth street being cut off, and the time having been too short to arrange for the lighting of the thousands of gas lamps, fallen into disuse since the introduction of electricity. Madison Square and Union Square parks, around which the life of the city clusters at night, are shrouded in almost impenetrable gloom. Rain was falling, and the gloomy sky served to intensify the darkness. The police patrol has been doubled in many sections of the city.

DESECRATED A GRAVE.

An Attempt to Steal the Body of Ralph Waldo Emerson.

CONCORD (Mass.), Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Yesterday morning, while attending a burial at Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, two gentleman discovered that the grave of Ralph Waldo Emerson had been disturbed. The authorities were notified, and found that the grave had been opened Saturday night, exposing the casket.

A watch was at once placed on the grave, but the general opinion here was that the miscreants accomplished their object and secured at least the skull, which was probably what they were after. Great indignation is expressed.

The undertaker who examined the casket says it has not been opened, the vandals probably being scared away by some one before they could complete their work.

The family has been satisfied that the body was not disturbed, and wish no further investigation. A heavy masonry tomb will be constructed.

THE ATCHISON.

ITS REORGANIZATION PLAN IN DETAIL.

Two New Issues of Bonds to Be Made—An Appeal to Securityholders to Save the Property.

By Telegraph to The Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The plan of reorganization adopted by the Atchison directors was made public today in an official circular. It is proposed to issue new 100-year 4 per cent. general mortgage bonds for $150,000,000, to be secured by a mortgage covering all the property of the company, including all the securities representing the control of and ownership in the necessary constituent companies, and all equipment now subjected to the car trust lines. All securities of the old bonds will be preserved so that the new bonds will have the protection of all existing liens with the addition of the completion and betterment of the properties from the new capital proposed to be raised. The taxes and rentals added to the interest upon that portion of the new bonds which it is proposed to issue at once, make up an annual fixed charge of $7,352,390, or less than the $7,500,000, which in the directors' opinion represents the earning power of the system this year.

There is also designed to be issued 100-year income bonds for $80,000,000, bearing interest at the rate of, and not exceeding, 5 per cent. per annum, non-cumulative, but payable only from and to the extent of such net earnings as may be found after the fixed charges have been met within the limit of 5 per cent. This income bond is designed to provide for such reduction of interest upon the present bonds as it was found necessary to make, in order to bring the fixed charges of the company within its earning power. Subscriptions are invited at once for $125,000,000 of the new general mortgage 4 per cent. bonds, subscribers of $300 in cash being entitled to receive a block consisting of $1000 new general mortgage 4 per cents and $1000 income 5 per cent. bonds. Call cash payments are to be made to Kidder, Peabody & Co., who shall hold such money in trust, not to be paid to the railroad company until it is officially announced that the plan of reorganization has been accepted and a sufficient amount of securities is deposited to make the reorganization effective.

The directors state that the real interests have been carefully considered, and it is believed that the plan will prove equitable to all. They appeal to all classes of securityholders to come forward and protect the property from the disaster of bankruptcy, and state that the non-success of this proposition will inevitably result in foreclosure, with all its attendant misfortunes.

A Labor Conference.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—The conference between the head officers of the Knights of Labor and American Federation of Labor began today. The Federation wants the Knights to join in the general demand for shorter work days on May 1st. Powderly wants to defer the matter until after the General Assembly next month.

The present condition of the eight-hour movement received full discussion. The Knights agreed to promptly advise the Federation of the action of the General Assembly. The relations of the two orders were then discussed, with a view to harmonizing interests and preventing future disagreements. The Knights proposed a mutual exchange of working-cards, mutual recognition of trade labels and the adoption of a rule to prevent one body from becoming suspended or expelled members of the other. The Federation proposed that the Knights discourage the formation of trade organizations within the order, promise being made that the Federation would urge members of the unions to connect themselves with the mixed assemblies of the Knights. It was agreed that the matters thus referred to should form the subject of a conference to take place next month.

The Congregationalists.

WORCESTER (Mass.), Oct. 14.—In the Congregational council today the temperance resolutions reported from the committee were adopted. They were conservatively worded, and a motion to substitute "legal" for "legitimate" effort was lost. A resolution asking Congress to increase the number of army and navy chaplains was adopted.

The business was practically finished at the afternoon session. The question of closer union with Methodists was referred to the committee in charge of such matters. A delegation to attend the proposed International Council was appointed, and the council dissolved for three years.

Regulating Pugilism.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors tonight an order was finally passed authorizing the License Collector to issue quarterly licenses to incorporated athletic clubs on payment of $750 fee per quarter, and prescribing that nothing less than five-ounce gloves shall be used at their exhibitions.

TRAGIC AFFAIR.

A Faithless Wife Killed by Her Husband.

George Hazard Coming Back to Los Angeles to Answer Charges.

Traffic Manager Stubbs Leaves the Southern Pacific.

The Southern California Motor Railway Company Charged With Extortion—Other Happenings on the Pacific Slope.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Mrs. Maggie Mendoza, who deserted her husband, Antonio S. Mendoza, a barber, at the Grand Hotel, some time ago, was shot and killed by him at a lodging-house on Sutter street this morning.

Mrs. Mendoza had left her husband several times to become an inmate of questionable houses, but had been taken back by him on promises to reform. She again left him a few weeks ago, and he found her last night in the lodging-house, where she was living with Albert Lassen. She resisted all his entreaties to return to him, so after remaining with her all night he went out this morning, purchased a pistol, completed some business arrangements, and returning to the house shot his wife in the temple.

A policeman entered the room a few minutes later and found the woman dying and Mendoza in the act of blowing out his own brains. The officer prevented this and took him to the police station. It was Mendoza's intention to kill Lassen, the man with whom his wife was living, and he was waiting for Lassen to come to the room when the officer entered.

A COMPLAINT.

Advance Agent High Had to Pay Five Cents Extra.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] A letter from Gavin D. High, advance agent of the new "California on Wheels" exhibit, has been received by the Railroad Commission, and has a complaint against the Southern California Motor Railroad Company, which he charges with extortion. He recently jumped on a motor car between Colton and San Bernardino, and was obliged to pay 5 cents extra or 20 cents in all for the privilege of riding to the latter city without a ticket. Mr. High states that if the road is operated under the laws of the State it ought to make an annual report

CHURCH HEATING AND LIGHTING.

The Fort-street Methodist Church and the First Congregational Church,

Corner Hill and Sixth streets, are the best lighted and heated churches in the city. Both use LOWE GAS exclusively.

It will pay all other churches, public and private buildings, to examine the heating arrangements and lights of the above churches

Remember that premium LOWE GAS is the only fuel and light that gives satisfaction. Here is one among hundreds of testimonials:

FORT-STREET M. E. CHURCH,
LOS ANGELES, March 6, 1889.

Prof T. S. C. Lowe—DEAR SIR: Respecting your inquiry regarding the use of the Lowe gas in this church I would say that early last winter we had our furnace fitted out to burn the gas supplied by that company. We found its use a marvelous improvement over coal. Formerly it took about two hours and a half to warm our auditorium to the point of comfort; after putting in the gas, equally good results could be reached in forty minutes from the time the burner was lighted in the furnace. In addition to the rapidity with which a building of this character can be warmed, the additions of cleanliness and safety make this gas absolutely the only fuel proper to be used.

[illegible] Lowe open gas grate in my study, which affords a cheerful fire, warming and ventilating the room at the same time.

For comfort, convenience and efficiency it has no equal.

The gas gave such satisfaction as a heating agent, that some time ago it was decided to introduce it for lighting as well, which was done with the most gratifying results.

We venture to say that we have one of the most beautifully lighted churches in the country so much so that it is universally remarked and commented upon, and we would certainly recommend the adoption of this gas by all similarly situated with ourselves. I am, truly yours, REV R. S. CANTINE.

COUNCIL.

THE THOMAS-STREET SCHOOL SITE FINALLY ACCEPTED,

Although It Seems to Have Made a Breach in the "Big Seven"—The Mayor's Veto Referred and the Committee on Retrenchment Discharged.

The City Council met in regular weekly session yesterday, with President Frankenfield and Councilmen Shafer, Brown, Hamilton, McLain, Summerland, Wirsching and Van Dusen present.

President Frankenfield called attention to the retrenchment ordinance and the message of the Mayor, vetoing it, stating that no doubt all the members had read the veto, which had been published in the public press.

Mr. Shafer moved that, without reading the message, the vote by which the ordinance passed be reconsidered. Carried.

Mr. Summerland moved that the Mayor's veto be sustained.

As a substitute, Mr. Shafer moved that the ordinance be referred to the Retrenchment Committee, which motion prevailed.

The Street Superintendent was granted permission to have the intersection of Kipp and Orange streets graded.

The Street Superintendent asked instructions from the Council as to the disposition of garbage, which has not been burned since the 8th inst

and Washington street were read and adopted.

Mr. Summerland moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to take steps to have Requena street sidewalked. Carried.

Mr. Summerland also moved that the City Clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for street sprinkling.

President Frankenfield thought a committee should be appointed to divide the city into districts for street-sprinkling purposes. Messrs. Hamilton, Van Dusen and McLain were appointed a committee of three to report.

Mr. Hamilton moved that the School Superintendent be requested to file specifications for the additions to schoolhouses in the City Clerk's office. Carried.

THE HORIZONTAL RAISE.

That Test Tax Case Before Judge Wade.

The tax injunction suit of Louis Phillips vs. Len J. Thompson, City Tax Collector, and the city came up in Department No. 3 of the Superior Court yesterday before Judge Wade on two motions, one of which was to show cause why an injunction should not issue against the Tax Collector to enjoin him from collecting the horizontal raise made by the Board of Equalization August 5th.

City Attorney McFarland requested that the hearing go over for one week to enable him to get ready to meet it. The Court continued it until Monday, at which time the case will be heard.

The City Attorney moved to strike out all portions of the complaint wherein it seeks to bring in other parties similarly situated with Phillips, so that it will not be made a test case. The motion was taken up by the Court at 2 o'clock and argued, on the part of the city by Mr. McFarland and on behalf of Mr. Phillips by J. L. Murphy and M. S. Stiles, the argument lasting the greater part of the afternoon. The Court refused the motion of the City Attorney and held the joinder proper, so that now the case, when decided, will be a test case as to the validity of the tax.

The outcome of the proceedings will be watched with much interest by the Council and taxpayers in the district where the assessment was raised, on Spring, Main and Los Angeles streets. It is understood that in the meantime, no taxes will be paid by the taxpayers of the district. Should the injunction be granted, the question will be whether or not the City Council will recede from its action and accept the taxes based upon the assessment made by the City Assessor before the horizontal raise.

The complaint of Mr. Phillips has been carefully prepared, with the design of covering the whole question of the power of the Board of Equalization to make the raise where the owner had notice and where he had none.

A MISSING GIRL.

Supposed to Have Run Away With a Showman.

Joseph Worth, a carpenter by occupation, and a resident of Visalia, called upon the Chief of Police yesterday afternoon and asked for advice under the following circumstances: Worth has a daughter about 15 years of age, rather slim, but very good looking, who up to Saturday last, had never left her father's house for any length-ened period. The Visalia Fair took place last week, and, among the many attractions in the way of side shows, was one containing a two-legged cow. The proprietor of this prodigy, Thomas Barnum, engaged a young fellow at Stockton to assist him in the conduct of his business, and he was at Visalia, explaining to the rustic mind the peculiar points of the animal. Fanny Worth, on Thursday last, went to the balloon ascension at the Visalia Fair, and she there became acquainted with Barnum's assistant, whose name cannot be ascertained. Barnum's show left Visalia on Saturday last, and so did Miss Worth, it is supposed in company with the assistant. Worth learned that his daughter had departed on the train, and wired to the authorities at Bakersfield and Mojave to intercept the fugitive. No trace of her, however, could be found and Worth followed the show to Los Angeles, where he found the show, but neither his daughter nor the young man was with it.

Worth will return to Visalia and institute inquiries along the line to see if his daughter got off at any of the intervening depots.

THE WYATT OPERA COMPANY.

Report from the Late Treasurer on Its Demise.

Herbert Thompson, treasurer of the Wyatt Opera Company, who accompanied it to Portland, Or., returned home yesterday. He says the company went to pieces in Portland, and a majority of the troupe returned to San Francisco. Mrs. Padelford went direct to New York, where she will join another opera company. He states that the Padelford-Rochester cowhiding story was started by some enemy of Rochester in Portland without foundation, and communicated by letter to theatrical people in Los Angeles.

What to Wear.

Fancy worsted suitings are in stone, drab and wood-brown, and in mixed shades of gray. For tourists' and business wear, fancy cheviots and homespuns have the preference. Trouserings in stripes and plaids are in a variety of very quiet and genteel shades. We have just secured the services of a high-class New York cutter, and our garments are equal in every respect to those of the very finest New York houses. Suits from $35 up; trousers from $10 up. Polaski Bros., 114 North Main street.

LANDSLIDE.

A SURF-LINE ENGINE PARTIALLY BURIED.

The Accident Occurred Near Del Mar—Engineer Thomas Caught in the Slide and Burned by Escaping Steam—Other Railroad News.

All day Sunday no trains were run over the surf line of the Santa Fé system. The stoppage was caused by a landslide near Del Mar. It seems that early Sunday morning, as the passenger train which leaves San Diego for Los Angeles at 1 a.m. was making good time near Del Mar, Engineer Thomas, who was looking out of his cab, saw what he believed to be the whole side of the mountain coming down on him. He put on the air-brakes as quickly as possible, and jumped from the engine as soon as he saw that it must come to a standstill before it had gone 10 feet further.

He landed in a torrent of water three feet deep, and before he could pull himself together the water, which was running like a mill-race, whirled him along the side of the cars and jammed him under the engine, which had come to a standstill. Just at this moment the landslide struck the engine and poor Thomas was wedged under it in such a way that he could not move. The engine was almost covered with mud and stones, and the shock burst the valves, and steam and hot water escaped in all directions. Thomas's body was half out of the mud and water, but he could not move and the hot water and steam, as they escaped from the engine, struck his legs, and before he could be removed they were badly burned. He was taken to a house near by and Dr. Ross went down yesterday to look after his injuries.

Fortunately no one else was injured, and the chances are that, had Thomas remained on the engine, he would have escaped. The landslide was caused by a water-spout, or cloud-burst, near by, and as the mass of earth was not very large it was removed very soon, and late Sunday night trains were running all right. This is the first accident that has occurred on the surf line.

H. B. Wilkins, late general freight and passenger agent for the California Central and California Southern, with headquarters in the Phillips Block, who has been stationed at Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, during the past few months, was in the city yesterday. He went to San Diego last night to visit his family, who reside in that city. Mr. Wilkins reports business as being better now than it has been in Mexico for some time. He is of the opinion that the change in the management of the Santa Fé will not affect its Mexican lines whatever.

The local officers of the Santa Fé system in California are getting ready for the consolidation of the lines, which takes place the latter part of this week.

Five Sunset specials passed over the Southern Pacific for the East yesterday. They were loaded with Northern California products.

Everything was quiet about the depots yesterday from a news standpoint, but business is better than it has been for some time previous, and the railroad people are confident that things will hum this winter.

The Southern Pacific officials are arranging their new time-tables, which will go into effect in a few days.

A Phillips & Co. excursion of seven cars from the East will arrive this evening at 6:45—12 hours ahead of time, on account of running as a special train.

The Chronicle says:

E. Dickinson, general superintendent of the Union Pacific, has been in town for the past three or four days. Yesterday Mr. Dickinson had two lengthy consultations with J. A. Fillmore, general superintendent of the Southern Pacific Company, R. G. Wilder, superintendent of the railway mail service, being an interested party to the deliberations. The object of the meeting of the three gentlemen was to make arrangements for the establishment of a limited fast mail train from Omaha to this city. A fast mail now runs from New York through to Omaha, and the establishment of the additional service between the latter city and this would have the very desirable result of making the time across the continent four and a half days. Twelve hours would be saved by the change each way.

Gov. Stanford, A. N. Towne, Creed Haymond and Clement will leave this evening for Ogden, where they expect to meet the Senatorial Committee on Pacific Railways.

Local passenger business has been quite heavy on the Southern Pacific Company's lines. The overland travel is, however, still rather light. Freight business is very good in all directions.

There is a well-founded rumor that Grant Bros., the contractors who built such a large portion of the Santa Fé's lines, have been awarded a contract to build 500 miles of road in the extension of the Utah Central line, or, in other words, the Union Pacific's line from Milford into Southern California. The story is a likely one in view of the persistent reports of the company's extension from Utah south. A mass-meeting in San Diego recently was held in the belief that the Union Pacific is about to immediately undertake the work, and one gentleman offered to start a subscription to induce the company to build into San Diego by paying $50,000 out of his own pocket. Upward of 500 laborers have been transferred to Milford, and such a force could not be required for ordinary repair work.

The raisin crop now being sent out of Southern California is the largest that has ever been handled.

ACQUITTED.

The Case of Rape Against Edgecomb Falls Flat.

Yesterday was a good day for acquittals in the Superior Court. James Edgecomb, on trial in Department No. 6, before Judge Shaw, charged with raping little Ella Garrett, was cleared without the jurors leaving their seats. When court convened at 10 o'clock Mrs. Edgecomb was put on the stand, and testified briefly as follows:

"My father, F. M. Garrett, changed Ella's name in the Bible. He changed it to make her a year younger. I saw him do it. I was afraid of papa. He had improper relations with me for five years. It was because of his relations with me that I said Edgecomb had raped me. My father has tried to get me back since my marriage. I had chances to get away from my father, but was afraid I would be brought back, and I did not want disgrace brought on us. Edgecomb thought I was not pure. He married me because he loved me, and I loved him."

Justice W. C. Lockwood testified that he saw the Bible in the lower court, and the figures therein are now the same they were then.

Josie Corbett, the girl whose confession of conspiracy in the lower court had such a paralyzing effect upon F. M. Garrett in his examination for incest, testified that she was living at the house of F. M. Garrett in July, when the alleged rape of Ella Garrett took place, and that she was a witness for Garrett in his preliminary examination for incest. She said that the rape case was talked about between Mrs. Edgecomb, Garrett and herself, and that she committed perjury for Garrett in the lower court, swearing to statements he had written for her. She said she tried to swear the best she could, and Garrett then tried to ship her out of the country.

The prosecution at this point was patently weak, and the defense having rested, the Court settled matters in short order. Judge Shaw addressed the jury, telling them that the people cannot sustain a case of this sort on uncorroborated testimony. The little girl has no corroborating evidence, the girl Fanny Levy flatly contradicting her in some of the evidence. He was satisfied that there could be no conviction, and therefore advised the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

This the jury did at once, and Edgecomb was discharged. This disposes of the three charges set on foot against Edgecomb, and leaves the Garrett case yet to be tried. When it is tried this disgusting series of cases will drop out of sight. Garrett will endeavor to prove that Maila Garrett-Edgecomb is not his daughter, as she claims to be. His trial upon the second charge of incest was set by Judge Shaw yesterday for November 26th.

EAST SIDE.

Items About People and Their Doings.

Baron Rogniat is rebuilding his wine cellar.

Jacob Detrich arrived yesterday from Springfield, Ill., and is the guest of D. Cross.

The cable company will commence stretching the cable this evening.

Mrs. Lawrence returned to Fort Laramie yesterday, after a stay of six months in Southern California.

Rev. Mr. Colter has gathered up the fragments, folded his tent and left his congregation to find more suitable quarters for service during the wet weather.

The Finance Committee of the celebration will meet this morning at 8 o'clock. It is very necessary that the full committee should be present, at 621 Downey avenue.

Clemmie Gay is convalescent.

C. A. Gardener returned from San Francisco yesterday just in time to see his train leave for Pasadena. He no doubt thought some hard words, but being a very self-contained man said nothing. He got ahead of the company by walking to Pasadena.

Last winter there were some good crossings at Downey avenue and Workman street, in front of the power-house, but they are gone. They are needed very much during the wet weather, and the parties taking them up would confer a favor upon the pedestrians by replacing the walks.

The Board of Trade will hold its regular session at Campbell's Hall at 7:30 this evening.

A GANG OF HOODLUMS

Fined for Tormenting an Old German Lady.

Punishment sometimes overtakes offenders, and it did so yesterday in Justice Lockwood's court, where three young fellows were tried for maliciously worrying a German woman named Mrs. Eliza Fisher. The names of the hoodlums are: Clint Stevenson, Archie Norington, Sheets and Ben Bennett, the last named not being arrested yet. They have been in the habit of calling Mrs. Fisher "Dutchy" and guying her unmercifully. They even went so far as to shoot off a revolver under her window at night, and pelt her with walnuts on various occasions. Norington pleaded guilty and was fined $15. Stevenson was fined and found guilty, the Court fining him $25. Sheets was discharged, proving an alibi, and having been found guilty of battery on two Chinamen in the morning, he was fined $25. Deputy District Attorney Diehl conducted the prosecution, and D. C. Burrey appeared for the defendants.

THE EDELMAN INDICTMENTS.

The Grand Jury To Be Questioned as to Its Legality.

The Edelman indictments came up before Judge Wade yesterday in Department No. 3 of the Superior Court, and, on motion, were continued until Saturday. The Court then issued an order citing the members of the Grand Jury to appear before him on Saturday and be examined touching their qualifications to serve as grand jurors. This is caused by the claim made that some of the jurors live in Orange county, and are disqualified for that reason. This is one of the points raised by S. M. White, Esq. and Henry T. Gage, Esq., in their claim that the indictments against Edelman are defective.

Fight for a Blanket.

Camelia Foot and John Bennett met in a saloon on Sunday evening last, and, after partaking of several drinks together, their tongues were loosened, and they discovered that they had many mutual acquaintances. Foot had his blankets with him, as he intended to start for the country yesterday morning to work on a ranch where he had been previously employed. Bennett walked with him as far as First street, and, as they were about to separate, Bennett suggested that one of Foot's blankets would be useful to him. As Foot declined to part with one, Bennett attempted to take it by force, and a rough and tumble fight ensued, which resulted in both men being arrested. Judge Stanton yesterday fined Foot $10 or 10 days for battery, and continued the case of Bennett till today.

Nicolas Leroi's Mother.

In the newsboys' sketch, printed in last Sunday's TIMES, the writer referred disparagingly to the mother of the little boy Nicolas Leroi. Her relatives deny the aspersion and request their denial to be made public. It is true that she plays the violin occasionally in public places, but the occupation is honorable. She is a widow and the mother of five children, and seeks this method of earning something for their support.

Mollie Devoe.

A. T. Leonard, stepfather of Mollie Devoe, called at the TIMES office last evening and stated that the girl was placed in Mrs. Watson's charge, not for the purpose of being "locked up," but to be cared for, and that when he requested her return, to be sent to the Magdalen Asylum, San Francisco, Mrs. Watson very willingly acquiesced and seemed glad to know that the girl was to be taken to a safe home.

Buelna Discharged.

A man named Buelna, who was accused of making away with $274 worth of lumber from the Los Angeles Storage and Commission Company, was before Justice Savage yesterday, and on motion of the District Attorney the case was dismissed. The real culprit, named Bismeyer, has run away, and there was no evidence to convict Buelna.

THE State Board of Horticulture is planning to have its Spring Fruitgrowers' Convention meet in Los Angeles next March, during the citrus fair.

PRESIDENT HARRISON recently told a California friend that he would probably visit the Pacific Coast next year, in company with Mr. Blaine. He would be made welcome.

A RECENT dispatch from Berlin announced that, at a hunting party, the Czar of Russia and the Emperor of Germany, lunched together, guarded by cuirassiers. It must be cheerful to eat one's lunch with the expectation of having a bullet perforate one's body between each mouthful.

WE have received a prospectus of the twelfth session of the State Fruitgrowers' Association, to be held at Fresno, from the 5th to the 8th of November. Many valuable essays on different subjects pertaining to horticulture will be presented, written by some of the most experienced and prominent horticulturists of the State.

MR. MENELOY, a merchant of Greytown, Nicaragua, says his people believe the Nicaragua Canal enterprise is at present in the hands of slow men. Among the officials of the company are retired army officers, who have had little or no business experience. They have never visited the work and are going ahead blindly. They dictate orders in New York which cannot be carried out in Central America.

CORRESPONDENTS continue to send us extracts from contemporaries, containing comments and details on the recently-perfected "native-guano" process, which has been arousing much interest in England. This shows that a belief is gaining ground in this country that the present wasteful and filthy system of the disposition of the sewage of cities and large villages, by running it into the streams and lakes, will not be tolerated much longer.

ONCE more the charge is made that diseased horses are being fed to hogs near this city, by a city contractor. This a most odious and disgusting charge. It is a matter which should be thoroughly investigated, without the loss of a day's time. The City Council and the Board of Supervisors must at once take steps to probe this matter to the bottom, fix the blame where it belongs, and have the guilty parties punished. The citizens will stand no half-way measures in this matter.

SUMMING up the result of the recent French election it is found that the Radicals lost 50 seats, while the Moderate Republicans made remarkable gains. The verdict of the people was against the revision of the constitution, demanded by the Radicals and in favor of the present republican form of government. The Radicals wanted a revision of the constitution which would abolish the Senate and place the administration of affairs wholly in the hands of the Chamber of Deputies. The fight was made on this ground, and the Conservative or Moderate Republicans won. The result is that Boulanger is consigned to deserved obscurity, and the permanency of the Republic is assured, for a few years to come, at least.

CITRUS EXHIBITS NORTH AND SOUTH.

It is generally believed in this section that the citrus fair to be held in this city next March is to receive a subsidy of $10,000 from the State, in accordance with a grant of the last Legislature. This, it appears, is not the case. The Legislature, it is true, granted $10,000 for citrus fair purposes, but the State Board of Agriculture decided to use this sum for four fairs—two this season and two next. The location of the southern district fair at Los Angeles having been decided upon, Central California is now engaged in attempting to decide upon a site for its show, which will probably be held about the middle of January, in accordance with the general claim of Central California that its oranges ripen earlier than with us.

The three cities of Central California which are striving for the location of the fair are Sacramento, Marysville and Oroville. Sacramento is said to have recently withdrawn in Marysville's favor, and the contest is now between that place and Oroville. Oroville people urge their claim because they were the originators of citrus fairs in that part of the State. They also point to the fact that they have the frame of last year's pavilion yet standing, and propose to hold their usual fair anyhow, whether the Board of Agriculture gives them the desired $2500 or not. They also claim that more is necessary than a mere exhibition of fruit, and that around Oroville may be seen hundreds of acres of citrus fruit trees.

Southern California will be pleased to see Central California hold a first-class citrus fair, and do its very best to show what its claims are in that line of horticulture. We know that a large number of citrus trees have been planted in Central California during the past ten years—some say as many as have been planted in Southern California, although this is probably an exaggeration. It is, however, equally certain that the exports of oranges from Central California amount practically to nothing. What is the reason of this? Let Central California hold a citrus fair on a fair basis, with fruit grown at home, and Southern California will not hesitate to give its neighbor in the north whatever praise is due for its citrus industry.

CHICAGO AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.

"'Tis not in mortals to command success, but we'll do more, Horatio; we'll deserve it!" The good people of Chicago appear to have these lines of Shakespeare's in view, to judge from their persistent efforts to secure the location of the World's Fair in that city. They are certainly leaving no stone unturned, and are proving their faith by their works, advancing arguments and coin with equal readiness.

Among other sub-societies having for their object the location of the fair in Chicago, they have a "California World's Fair Auxiliary Association," which recently ordered adopted and printed an address presented by its secretary, from which we extract the following readable paragraphs. There is no doubt that Chicago would receive an overwhelming majority of votes on this coast, were an election to be held on the Exposition site:

The city of Chicago is clearly indicated in every one of the essential requisites of location. It is the commercial, geographical and railroad center for about 45,000,000 people. How shall Americans note the world's progress unless they can get to the fair? How can European visitors learn what America is, unless the fair is made the means of showing something more of our country than the outer rim where the steamer lands them?

From Chicago, as the railroad center of America, how easy it will be to inaugurate a series of excursions for the entertainment and instruction of our foreign visitors to the great cities on the "Father of Waters," the wonders of the Yellowstone Park, the grand cañons of the Rockies, and beyond even to the "City by the Golden Gate," the Yosemite and the "City of the Angels!"

Let no Californian underestimate the importance of giving an ocular demonstration to just as many people as possible of the boundless resources of what is known as the arid region, west of the one-hundredth meridian, sometimes called the "Great American Desert"—that country devoid of sufficient rainfall to mature agricultural crops. Let them witness the talismanic effects of putting water on the desert by artificial irrigation, such as can be shown in Colorado, Utah and in California in the great San Joaquin, Los Angeles and San Bernardino valleys, and they will get an inkling of the scope of that great truth stated in the late "Report of Committee on Arid Lands of the California State Board of Trade" to the visiting committee of the United States Senate, viz: "Land is more productive and its cultivation more certain of profit to the cultivator where the element of moisture is controlled and directed by means of artificial irrigation. The application of water to the fertile areas lying west of the one-hundredth meridian is to confer upon them a productive capacity even in excess of that capacity now inherent in the lands east of that line, equivalent, therefore, to acquiring a new territory equal, if not superior, in fertility to that now occupied by the great body of our civilization—equivalent to making room for 60,000,000 more industrious citizens."

This is the statement of a truth so vast as to be realized and believed only by seeing the products actually growing on land which only a few years ago was considered worthless.

The one thing that California and the Great West need is to be better known. California should have a more intimate acquaintance with the great, growing city of Chicago, which already markets so many of her oranges, raisins, nuts and fruits, as well as to court facilities for the great Northwest and the rest of the world to see her wonderful productions, either growing or grown. These are some of the reasons why Californians should urge their representatives in Congress to locate the fair at Chicago.

In going over the material requisites for the location of so important an enterprise in so vast a country as ours, we have omitted to mention the most material and essential of all—the spirit of Chicago! If there is one city in America that, more fully than any other, stands for American energy, enterprise, brain, thrift, growth, grip, grit and general go-ahead-ativeness, it is Chicago. Her ideas are as broad and comprehensive as her great lakes on the east and her grand prairies on the west.

SOME of the New York papers appear to be growing excited over the World's Fair question, to judge from their suggestions as to how to make the fair a success. Here are a few sample suggestions: An immense cluster of electric lights held one or two miles high by captive balloons. A colossal aquarium. Roof over with glass the upper end of Central Park. An iron building like a globe, with an eagle on top, the whole to be higher than the Eiffel tower. A great planetarium showing the celestial bodies in motion. Build the main building like a statue of Columbus, colored glass to represent flesh. A tower after the model of the bibl cal Babel. A so-called "Independence Tower," 1200 to 1500 feet high. Reproduce the Olympian games in an open-air gymnasium or arena. Exhibit all naval matters in a monster iron ship. Out-Eiffel Eiffel in two towers connected by a suspension bridge. Provide a great aquarium with electric lights, so as to show whales and other big fish that shall be got. Build another Egyptian pyramid. Build a huge bell. Why not put in a pipe line from this coast and supply some of our cool summer climate.

A CHICAGO exchange contains the following, which is rather emphatic, but which voices a sentiment that is rapidly spreading in this country:

A civilization is unjust and doomed wherein thousands of roués and rake-hells can live lives of debauchery, idleness and luxury, whilst the millions who feed them drag out their sad days in want, wretchedness and ceaseless toil.

The Asylum Site.

[San Bernardino Courier, Oct. 13.]

If the commissioners want the best site they will locate in the San Bernardino foothill belt. If they want a site forever safe from the danger of flood and of malaria they will locate in the foothill belt. If they want a site where the surface of the earth is dry and clean in winter they will locate in the San Bernardino foothill belt. If they want a site surrounded by orange groves and the most beautiful subtropical shrubbery they will locate in the foothill belt, north or east of this city. If they want to give the insane patients the benefit of the hot mineral springs and of the best climate in the world they will select a limit within the northern foothill belt. If they think it desirable that the asylum should be located where local fevers are unknown they will go to the northeastern foothills. If it is an object to place the asylum and the land attached to it so as to be absolutely safe from the devastating floods which, in a single night, often change the face of the country and carry farms before them to the ocean, why, they will give the preference to the northern foothill belt. There they have every feature most desirable in a site—safety from flood, protection from wind, immunity from frost, a clean, dry earth surface all the year round, a delightful mean temperature, an absolutely pure air, cool in summer and warm in winter, the sweetest, healthiest and purest spring water for domestic use, a steady stream of invaluable hot mineral water given them as an absolute gift, a view of the most magnificent and diversified scenery on the continent, a fine location above the valley basin and above the fogs and mists of the bottoms, and land so fertile that as its neighbor, Highland, radiantly and realistically illustrates, only cultivation is necessary to make it a splendorous, sub-tropical paradise.

IT WOULDN'T BREAK THEIR HEARTS.

[San Bernard no Courier, Oct. 13.]

The loss of the asylum would not ruin San Bernardino by any means, but to place it where it would do San Bernardino the greatest possible harm will not be very acceptable to our people, who have long memories.

A Dangerous Delegation.

[Riverside Press October 11th.]

The pertinacity with which the Banning representatives have dogged the steps of the Asylum Commissioners leads the Courier to express a fear that their shrewd persistence may prove effectual at last. It is suspicious that the Banning delegation design kidnaping the commissioners and carrying them off to their fastnesses in the mountains. We suggest to the Courier that to avoid such a danger it had better drop the mud-spring project and, pooling issues with the rest of the county, locate the asylum—of course with the consent of the Governor and the commissioners—on the spot most generally acceptable, the mesa opposite Colton.

Smith vs. American, Phœnix and Pennsylvania fire insurance companies; submitted.

The afternoon was taken up by the examination of a class of applicants for admission to practice law, the class consisting of the following young gentlemen, who have been pursuing their legal studies for some time past in the city and elsewhere: Leolin Taylor of San Bernardino, C. C. Haskill of San Bernardino, Gilbert A. Powell, Charles Udell, D. C. Morrison, E. W. Taylor, M. W. Conkling, George H. Dunlop, Henry G. Weyse, J. D. Longstreet, D. P. Kendrick, H. D. Dunlop and Isidore B. Dockweiler, all of Los Angeles. The examination was witnessed by a large number of students and attorneys, and the young men were put through a pretty severe ordeal. It is expected that some of the applicants will not pull through at this time.

The case of Robert Levine, now serving a term at San Quentin for arson, will come up on Thursday on application for a new trial.

Broke His Collar-bone.

At 7:30 yesterday evening W. A. Peschatt walked into the police station and requested that a doctor be summoned, as he was seriously injured. Dr. Morrison was sent for, and found that the unfortunate man's collar-bone was broken, though the fracture was not a very bad one. After the bone had been set Peschatt was sent home. Peschatt was aboard a Figueroa-street car and paid the conductor with a five-dollar gold piece. After alighting he discovered, as he says, that his change was a dollar short and he ran after the car, but he stumbled before reaching it, and in falling fractured his collar-bone.

Malietoa's Magnanimity to Mataafa.

Socialists in Europe Say Their Day Will Come Soon.

France Again Alarmed About Her Frontier Defenses.

An Earl on Trial On an Ugly Charge—English Landlords Opposed to Needed Improvements in London, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

AUCKLAND, Oct. 14.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Dispatches from Samoa say that a public meeting has been held there for the election of a King. All foreign representatives attended. Malietoa made an address, in which he praised Mataafa and advised the people to elect him their King. As for himself, he was content to be vice-King.

It is understood that Germany will refuse to recognize Mataafa.

SELFISH LANDLORDS.

Street Improvements in London Bitterly Opposed.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Great real-estate owners, like the Duke of Westminster, are opposing, with all the means in their power, the improvements involving sequestration of ground in the heart of the city for widening some streets and piercing new thoroughfares to relieve the congested state of some main avenues of traffic. A new outlet from the Strand to Holburn will involve the demolition of a line of buildings, not very ornamental to be sure, but yielding large rentals, and the owners are frantic with indignation at what they do not hesitate to call robbery. The amount of compensation in such cases is always unsatisfactory, and the scheme for street improvements will bring a perfect avalanche of law suits.

Visitors to London, as well as residents, will hail with joy the widening, but the owners of buildings there are much concerned at the threatened destruction of all business while the improvements are being made, and consequent loss of rents.

SOCIALISTS ELATED.

They Find New Hope in Signs of the Times.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The Socialists feel a grim satisfaction in every incident which increases the discontent of the rank and file of any of the continental armies with their governments. The recent strike of the dock laborers at Flensburg was easily crushed by the authorities, who put soldiers at work loading and unloading the vessel in the strikers' places.

The strike of bakers in Berlin recently was ended by the same arbitrary process, bakers having been detailed from the ranks of soldiers to fill the places of men who had refused to work, and the latter had to submit. The memory of these acts will not soon die out.

The soldiers do not obey such orders willingly, and these are only so many more items added to the long account which the down-trodden masses are partly waiting an opportunity to settle.

OTHER FOREIGN NEWS.

The Earl of Galloway Acquitted on an Ugly Charge.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The Earl of Galloway was arraigned this morning on a charge of having made an indecent assault upon a child. The court was crowded with leading people of the community. The little girl gave testimony as to the nature of the Earl's offense, and her testimony was corroborated by other witnesses. A statement prepared by the defendant was then read, in which an explanation was made that no intentional offense was committed. In helping the child off a wall his hand accidentally came into improper contact with her person.

The guilt of the accused seemed so clearly established that those present in the courtroom, many of whom were friends and relatives of the little girl, whom the aged nobleman was charged with abusing, took no pains to conceal, their disgust with the verdict, which was acquittal. The announcement of the verdict was the signal for loud expressions of disapproval from the benches where the spectators were seated, and the frowns and threats of the presiding Judge were of no avail to suppress the cries of "shame! shame!" uttered by dozens of indignant persons.

In London the news of the verdict was received with great indignation among the common people, and it was pointed out that had the accused been anything but a great nobleman the evidence brought out would have been sufficient to convict him a dozen times over.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The Difficulties of Missionary Work in the West.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America resumed its session today.

The missionary meeting began at noon. Rev. Daniel Leonard, bishop of Nevada and Utah, spoke of the decadence of Nevada and how the population had fallen under 40,000. In Utah the Mormon question is far from settled. When he first went there he thought he knew something about it, but now after years of work he confessed it puzzled him.

Rev. John Mills Kendrick, missionary bishop of New Mexico and Arizona, occupied the greater portion of his time describing the physical appearance of his diocese and the necessity of irrigation. Many of his constituents were Mexicans and Indians, who cannot be reached through the English language. He thought before money should be spent in churches and schools, new men should be sent into the field. Five active missionaries were needed. The Indians were but little better than pagans, and the church work should begin before them.

At the afternoon session Rev. W. B. Gordon, appointed to counsel the Episcopal workers in Mexico, reported good progress. "There are but two classes in Mexico," said the speaker. "The higher class are infidels. The lower class are infidels. If any man wants to see the need of a mission let him come with me to Mexico. If he cannot see the need for overcoming the superstition and ignorance of the inhabitants he is unconvincible."

The committee to which was referred the report of the board of managers of foreign and domestic missions regarding the proposed $1,000,000 endowment fund, which had failed in its purpose, suggested that the money be returned to the subscribers. This matter was laid over.

The Committee on Colored Evangelization moved that $40,000 be appropriated for the committee for the ensuing two years. Carried.

The English Grain Trade.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Mark Lane Express says: "English wheat is placed on sale freely, though prices are unsatisfactory. Inquiry is improving and it is generally expected that prices will recover 2s and 3s during 1889. Foreign wheat is firm. California is 6d dearer. Americans must be disappointed at the lack of European inquiry for new red, buyers preferring Russian, of which 200,000 quarters is being shipped weekly. Barley is higher. Corn on the smaller exchanges is firmer, but the big markets are over-full and weak. Oats are hardening. Today there was a better feeling and the advance in grain was maintained."

The Indian a Political Factor.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The Indian as a political factor is likely in the near future to attract public attention. By recent acts of Congress every Indian over 21 years of age receives an allotment of land in severalty and becomes a voter. The successful termination of negotiations with the Sioux Indians in South Dakota will next year throw into the State 4937 voters. The new nations now in progress will soon make much more work at the Interior Department. It is thought that upward of 20,000 Indians will be entitled to vote at the next Presidential election.

A MYSTERY.

THE WEST END EXCITED ABOUT A DESERTED COTTAGE.

The Unknown Tenants Depart and the Detective Force Puzzled—A Case That Causes a Great Deal of Gossip.

About three months ago a young man rented a cottage on Belmont avenue, near First street, and lived there with his wife and her younger sister. Neither the man nor the ladies sought the acquaintance of their neighbors, and they were very reluctant to take any one into their confidence. It was noticed, however, that things were not quite so harmonious in the little circle as they might be, the head of the family evidently paying more attention to the sister-in-law than was pleasing to his wife, and quarrels were very frequent. On one occasion he took his sister-in-law into the backyard, and was evidently enjoying a pleasant half hour in her company when his legal spouse was observed to come out and interrupt the pleasant tête-a-tête in a very abrupt manner.

The man was so secretive in his movements and so reluctant to make an acquaintance that the neighbors did not even know his name, and when about a month ago, the three departed, as it was supposed, for a vacation at a summer resort, little was thought of the matter. They returned to the house about a week ago, and on the 8th of this month the younger lady came to the police station and complained that a burglary had been committed at the house, and that her room had been ransacked. The police, however, thought there was something peculiar about the case, as, although everything in her room, including her dresses and wearing apparel had been taken away, nothing else in the house had been touched, and it looked like an attempt on the part of the wife to drive her sister away. On Thursday evening last shrieks were heard in the cottage, and a neighbor who looked through the window saw the two women quarreling and fighting. Soon afterward the younger woman was seen to leave the house and walk toward the city, evidently much disturbed and crying. On Friday morning the house was closed, and there was no sign of an occupant. As no one came out or entered all that day or Saturday a neighbor, suspecting foul play, reported the matter to the police, and Detective Auble was sent to investigate. He found the place closed, and after examining every room from the outside he could see nothing to justify a forcible entrance. A beer keg and several bottles were lying in one of the rooms. It is possible that the parties may return, but the police are still making diligent inquiries into the matter.

RUN OVER.

A Young Man Badly Injured by a Street Car.

At 11:45 last evening as car No. 11 of the Main-street and Agricultural Park line, driven by J. W. Lott, was making its last trip to the park, the driver going down Jefferson street, about 100 yards west of Main, felt a jolt and heard several shrieks. He immediately stopped the horses and jumping off found an unfortunate man upon the track, the wheels of the car having run completely over him. Word was sent to the police station, and the patrol wagon and Sergt. Jeffries went to his assistance. Dr. Choate was telephoned for, and he found the unfortunate man suffering from a compound fracture of the left ankle. His left arm was also badly broken, and it is feared that he has sustained serious internal injuries, as he complains of the pain about his chest.

The injured man is about 30 years of age and is named Robert Faulder. He resides at 112 West Fifth street. He is in the employ of the Pacific Coast Installment Association, and has a young wife. The driver cannot give any explanation, his failure to notice the man upon the track, as, although the electric lights were out, the moon was shining brightly at the time. The victim himself could give no lucid explanation of his whereabouts last evening, nor how he came to be lying upon the track; but as $68.50 and a watch were found on his person, it is not likely that he was the victim of foul play.

William H. Thomas was admitted to practice.

A Frightened Debtor.

Several weeks ago M. M. Chase wished to take his wife to the theater, and as he did not have the funds in his pocket necessary to purchase the tickets, he borrowed $2 from E. D. Brunson, the sewing machine agent in the Panorama building. Owing to the recent fluctuations in Atchison stock, Chase has not felt inclined to repay the money, but Brunson has repeatedly dunned him for it, and meeting him on Spring street yesterday he insinuated that if the money was not forthcoming within 24 hours Mr. Chase had better prepare for his latter end, or words to that effect. Chase had Brunson arrested for using threatening language, and Judge Stanton continued the case till today.

THE DRUGGING CASE.

Savage and Cuffe, the Pugs, Are Acquitted.

The jury in the Savage-Cuffe case before Judge Cheney were out half an hour yesterday afternoon, before they brought in a verdict of not guilty. There were few new developments in the testimeny taken during the morning, the witnesses examined sim ly going over the details of the case as already published.

Angie Harcourt, the girl who accuses Peter Savage and Edward Cuffe of drugging her for purposes of criminal assault, burst into tears at one time, while A. Levi, a restaurant-keeper, was testifying. The testimony which brought the tears was that she told Levi in the hack, when he was taking her to Mrs. Watson's, that she drank the liquor furnished by the defendants of her own free will, and no one was to blame for it but herself; also that she talked freely with the witness during the ride. T ese statements the girl sobbed out were false; and she became so excited that she was taken out of the court-room. On cross-examination Levi stated that the defendants are patrons of his restaurant.

Mrs. Watson swore positively that when Levi came to her house he told her the girl was unconscious, and she found Angie lying in the hack in an insensible condition. Levi had denied that he told Mrs. Watson the girl was unconscious.

The barkeeper who mixed the "gin cocktails" supplied to Angie at the Anheuser-Busch saloon, testified that he did not put turpentine in the docoction.

The defendants were both put on the stand for the defense, and Cuffe, the prize-fighter, said that Angie Harcourt asked to be treated, and volunteered to go into the saloon. He denied that there was an idea of doing her harm. She said she was sick and wanted a drink and he gave her the drinks because she asked for them. He denied that he sat on her lap or forced her to drink any liquor, or that Savage did, either.

She finally asked them to get a room for her, as she was very sick, and he went across the street to get one. He secured a room and they were assisting her to get to it when Mrs. Cohn stopped them.

When Cuffe was asked if he proposed to Angie Harcourt to take a drink, he replied that he did not, and he would not offer a woman a drink that early in the morning. Savage told about the same story, and both said that they had seen her frequently at the saloon before this occasion.

The case was submitted to the jury without argument on either side. The Court, in the instructions to the jury, said that in this kind of a case and upon the charge preferred it was necessary for the State to prove that the liquor or drug was administered with the intent to commit rape; that the intent is the essence of the case, and unless they could find from the evidence that such were the facts, they could not find the defendants guilty.

Under the instructions given it was not anticipated that the jury would be out more than a few minutes, but they deliberated for a full half-hour before agreement.

THE NAUD-WEYSE CASE.

Weyse Walks into Court and Gives Bond.

Mrs. Julia Weyse, wife of Rudolph G. Weyse, is not leaving any legal stones unturned to secure the possession of her child, Julia Amelia Weyse, aged 2 years and 5 months, who has been spirited away by the father. A complaint, charging Weyse with kidnaping, was filed a day or two ago, in Justice Savage's court, and the officers of the court have been looking for him. He surprised them all yesterday morning by walking into the court and surrendering himself. He was arraigned on the charge and placed under bond of $1200, which he gave, his brother, Henry G. Weyse, and John P. Moran becoming the sureties. His examination was set for next Monday, the 23d inst.

Yesterday there was filed in the Superior Court a complaint which will open another lucrative field for the counsel in the case. It is a complaint by Mrs. Louise Weyse, formerly Mrs. Naud, against O. G. and R. G. Weyse, to settle the question of the ownership of the Naud estate. She alleges that she is the owner in fee simple of a five-sixths interest in certain property, and that the defendants set up an unwarrantable claim to an interest in the property. She alleges that it is her separate estate, and prays that the defendants be required to show the nature of their claim.

It is asserted that a natural son of E. Naud, who, it is claimed, was acknowledged by him as his son, will attempt to assert his rights before the case is concluded. The complications which have arisen seem to increase each day.

A Fence Line Squabble.

Joseph Blow, who owns a lot at the back of Naud's warehouse, has for neighbors two brothers named Butler. The Butler boys have built a fence around their property, and in doing so have trespassed on about six inches of Blow's land. Blow wished them to remove the fence, and when they refused to do so, he threatened to tear it down. The Butlers defied him to do so, and used stronger language than Blow thought was necessary, so he, yesterday, swore out a complaint against them before Judge Owens, charging them with disturbing the peace.

See Discharged.

As forecasted in yesterday's TIMES, Dick See was discharged yesterday by Judge Cheney, a jury for the second time having failed to agree in his case. The discharge of the prisoner was requested by Assistant District Attorney McComas, who stated that he thinks a conviction can not be obtained against See, owing to the long time that has elapsed since the killing of William Duncan. While the discharge of the prisoner is not a bar to another action, it is not probable that he will ever again be molested by the authorities on that score.

Saticoy residents are rejoicing over the fact that 3000 acres of Schappa Pietra's rancho across the river have been subdivided, and is being rented out in lots of 100 acres each to farmers. This tract is level and sandy, and will grow corn, beans and alfalfa. The reported terms of rental are one-third of the crop.—[Ventura Vidette.

FRESH LITERATURE.

GOLD THAT DID NOT GLITTER. A novel. By VIRGINIUS DABNEY, author of "Don Miff." Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott Company. (For sale by Stoll & Thayer, Los Angeles.)

The author of this has a genuine gift for delightful story-telling. His pen pictures are scenes from every day life; his heroes and heroines are real men and women whose humanity appeals to us, and whose charming individuality delights us. We feel that we would like to have known them, and to have participated in the scenes which he so naturally portrays. The present volume takes the reader to an old Virginian plantation just after the War of the Rebellion, and introduces him to a typical Virginian family, who are in reduced circumstances, owing to the losses entailed by the war. But they have lost nothing of their high bred, yet genial and generous hospitality. A wealthy young Englishman comes home with the son and brother, and there, under the brightness of those southern skies, the "old, old story" is again repeated with the happiest results. The opening of the story verges upon the tragical and gives glimpses of life as it is often found amid the loneliness and hardships of the great city. Humanity is pictured in various phases, but it ends, as every story should end, brightly and refreshingly. In style the author is simple, unaffected, but he carries his story right on in a way that is sure to please.

THE FIVE TALENTS OF WOMEN. A book for girls and women. By the author of "How to be Happy Though Married;" "Manners Maketh Man," etc., etc. New York: Charles Scribner & Sons (For sale by Stoll & Thayer, Los Angeles.)

The author says, in his preface to this volume, "Shall I be considered old-fashioned and reactionary if I confess to the conviction that the truest and noblest function of a woman is to be a wife and mother, and that her best friends are those who most appreciate woman's special work—the direction of the household, the care of the young and sick? At the same time I do not shut my eyes to the number of women who cannot be wives and mothers, or think that they must necessarily be superfluous. Who does not know women who are happy though single, and who are ranked among the the most useful members of society?" Chapter first treats of "The Five Talents of Woman," which are enumerated as, first, to please people; second, to feed them in dainty ways; third, to clothe them; fourth, to keep them orderly, and fifth, to teach them.

The subject of woman's sphere is treated in an original manner, but nevertheless forcibly and convincingly. These so-called little talents are glorified, and woman's sphere is shown to be widely comprehensive, and one upon which no small share of the happiness and the usefulness of the race depend. The volume is well worthy the careful and attentive perusal of those for whom it was written. So read and studied, it will prove a wise helper and instructor to women, and if its teachings are put into daily practice it will brighten many a heart and home.

LUCIA, and other sketches. A collection of poems. by J. C. T.

This little volume is composed of the first gleanings of the author in the field of song, and it contains much of varying merit. There are here and there flashes of poetic fire, and the iridescence of wit, humor, together with word-paintings that are pleasant. Take this, for instance:

"Musing and silent my Love stands
'Mong the tall poppies. She is fair
As lilies are, and sunshine pales
Bes de the brightness of her hair."

And here is a "Lullaby" that is full of tenderness.

"Sleep, Baby, see—
The little birds in downy nest
Are cuddled to the mother's breast;
The wind that sways the maple bough
Has rocked them all to slumber now,
As I rock thee.

Sleep, Baby, see—
The flowers that 'neath sunny skies
Oped wide their wondering, dewy eyes
Have o'er them closed their petals bright,
Safe guard to keep till morning light,
As I guard thee.

Sleep, Baby, see—
Like little lambs, the golden stars
Come trooping thro' the sunset bars;
The moon, their shepherdess, will hold
Each lambkin safe within her fold
As I hold thee.

Sleep, Baby, see—
A tender love is ever near,
Then slumber on without a fear;
Our God is watching over all,
He heeds the tiny sparrow's fall—
And He guards thee.

A long, curved stretch of glistening sand,
Like shining fetters cast
About the surf, by Nature's hand,
To hold the waters fast;
Beyond, a frowning cliff-line steep,
By high tides fissured o'er—
Where stormy petrels voice their cries,
And sea-gulls wheel and soar.

Afar, a gray horizon bends
To wrap the ocean round,
And bold against the sky is seen
A white sail, outward bound;
The foaming waters, wave on wave,
A sudden challenge hurl—
And flying storm-clouds in the west
Their pinions dark unfurl.

Farrell's Yard.

In yesterday's TIMES it was inadvertently stated that Dr. MacGowan, the Health Officer, had visited Mr. Farrell's yard on the San Fernando road, to which the dead animals found within the city limits are removed. Dr. MacGowan was instructed by the Board of Health to visit the yard and report upon its condition, but he has not yet done so.

New Suits.

A foreclosure suit was begun yesterday by R. Thomas vs. F. N. Rust, et al. to recover judgment for $3000.

The Providencia Land, Water and Development Company brought suit against G. M. Adams to recover judgment on vendor's lien for $1425.

PASADENA NEWS.

THE OPENING UP FOR THE WEEK.

The Charity Society — Into a Pit One Hour — Local Intelligence — Here and There — Interesting Personal Gossip.

PASADENA, Oct. 14. — [Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The Charity Organization Society of Pasadena held a meeting at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the office of Secretary Springer. President Buchanan was in the chair, and members Miss Bartlett, W. U. Masters, A. F. M. Strong, D. R. McLean, A. G. Throop and M. E. Wood of the Executive Committee were present.

Warrants were ordered drawn in payment of bills for nurse hire in two cases reported to the body.

The question of relief for Mrs. Beaton was discussed and left in the hands of J. A. Buchanan.

LOCAL MENTION.

Campaign work for the election next spring has already commenced. The "politicians" in a room in a down-town prominent building have wisely decided to fold their tents and let things go as they will.

An entertainment and social will be given by Mrs. J. W. Wood at the residence on East Colorado street, near Moline avenue, on Thursday evening. It is gotten up for the benefit of the floor-fund of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

INTO A PIT.

Last Saturday evening at an early hour, as Capt. John S. Godfrey, an employé of the Painter waterworks, was making his way toward camp he fell into a pit within a few hundred feet of his tent, and there lay, helpless, for some time. The evening was quite dark, and as he was wandering up along the Arroyo Seco he took a match from his pocket to try and find his way. He had hardly thrown the lighted stick from him when he fell, he knows not how, into the hole a few yards from him. Crawling into camp, he lay there all night in terrible agony, and on Sunday morning came down toward the Painter Hotel. Dr. Hodge was sent for, and on examination it was found that the collar-bone and three ribs had been broken. The injured man is resting quietly today at the home of A. J. Painter, who is caring for him.

HERE AND THERE.

Jerome Beebe is in ecstasy over the arrival of a 10-pound baby boy in his household. Mother and baby are doing well.

A very select party of ladies and gentlemen go to the Pleasant Hotel at Los Angeles on Wednesday evening, in Vore & Hoag's four-in-hand, to pay the guests of that house a friendly visit.

A Mexican imbibed too much of the juice of the reed yesterday, and this morning woke up in the city cooler. His sentence expires on Wednesday.

The Saturday half-holiday arrangement in the banks is a permanent pleasure and not only during the summer.

IN BEHALF OF MRS. BEATON.

The Ladies' League, which has in charge the matter of relief for Mrs. Beaton, held a meeting this afternoon in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association. It was decided to have a report published in the daily papers on Saturday of this week. Mrs. Beaton, who is still at the home of James Smith, is now able to sit up, and the nurse hire has been discontinued. Her recovery is only a question of a few weeks.

CONDENSED ITEMS.

The Board of Trade banquet is off for the present. A citizens' banquet will be given at the Painter at an early day.

The funeral services over the remains of Brakeman Pixley were held at Duarte this afternoon. The Monrovia lodge of Odd Fellows attended the services in a body. The remains will go east on Tuesday morning's overland.

A horse belonging to Homer Morris tried to jerk out a curbstone yesterday near Swan's cigar store, and after tangling himself up in the harness succeeded in dashing up Fair Oaks avenue, reaching the stable with a bruised knee.

A cablegram addressed "Helsbord" awaits the party for whom it is intended at the Western Union Telegraph office.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

The Baptist Breeze.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] In behalf of Dr. Pendleton of the Tabernacle Baptist Church and the members of the church and congregation generally, I wish to disclaim any participation in, or sympathy with, the personal reflections upon Drs. Read, Kennard and Tinker, contained in a communication to the Sunday TIMES signed "Fair Play."

In this connection allow me to correct a statement made in an interview with a prominent member of the Central Baptist Church, published in a Monday morning paper. The reporter quotes the member as saying that Dr. Pendleton, in his farewell sermon to the Central Baptist Church, remarked, substantially, that he could not, with any satisfaction, preach the gospel of Jesus Christ to a lot of people who had abetted an armed rebellion against the Government of the United States. Now, it must have seemed very improbable to most readers that Dr. Pendleton made such a remark. The fact is, I heard the sermon referred to, and am positive that no such remark, nor any similar one, was made by the Doctor. It is also a fact that previous to the unfortunate difference, which sprang in great part from the hard times and the debt which the church had incurred, Dr. Pendleton's relations with the southern members of the Central Church were as cordial as with others, and a number of them have joined the new organization or met regularly with them. H. M. CROWELL.

A Child Run Over.

A small boy, named Johnny Higginbotten, while playing, was run over, and suffered severe injury, by the crowd going to colton's furniture exchange, two hundred and two south spring street, where the greatest bargains in the city can be found in all kinds of furniture and household goods; it astonishes everybody how he can sell so cheap.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Oct. 10, 1889. Notice is hereby given that Mr. L. W. Blinn has this day been appointed manager for the San Pedro Lumber Company, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Merick Reynolds. San Pedro Lumber Company, John A. Hooper, President.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The stock market was exceptionally feverish and unsettled and in portions weak today, although the general run of railroad stocks were well supported, and a few displayed undoubted strength. Industrial stocks were the weak spot in the market, and they served to check the advancing tendency. The market continued feverish and unsettled the entire day, and finally closed rather heavy, though the final prices are fractionally higher than those of Saturday in all but a few instances. Atchison is up 3⅝ per cent., Jersey Central 2, and Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and St. Louis 1¼, while sugar refineries were down 6½ and cotton oil 2¾.

PEOPLE'S STORE.

EARN MONEY EASILY BY BUYING JUDICIOUSLY.

How the Popularity and Low Prices of the People's Store Occasionally Act as a Detriment.

PEOPLE'S STORE,
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15, 1889.

The popularity of our stores and the very low prices we place on our wares at times acts as a detriment with parties not knowing our method of business. In buying and selling we never gauge merchandise by its market value. When we buy a bargain we sell a bargain. When we buy under price we add only our usual percentage for handling, and our customers get the benefit.

Good judges of goods do not value an article by the price asked for it. If some high-priced store asks you for a yard of silk $1.50, and the People's Store sells the same silk at 98c, it does not signify that the $1.50 silk is better than the 98c because you pay more. Our high-grade goods are sold so low that all judges of goods have supposed the grades inferior. We carry all qualities, from the lowest to the highest grades, and all at the uniform low and proper prices. All good merchants recognize that more can be made in the proper buying than by selling. So we want our patrons to feel. We want to instill into their minds that they can earn more in buying properly by going to the house that sells properly than by any known way. If on your purchases bought of us you gain $1, it is equivalent to that much less labor on the part of the bread-winner, for that money need not be earned again. Save, accumulate beyond want, and it will bring happiness.

CATARRH

Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma,

CONSUMPTION,

Together with Diseases of the Eye, Ear and Heart, successfully treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS,

M.D., M.C.P.S.O.,

Hollenbeck Block, cor. Spring and Second sts., Los Angeles, Cal.

All Diseases of the Respiratory Organs treated by the

Compound Oxygen

And other Medicated Inhalations.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold. Indeed he declares he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another; and he is always exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and the throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character, and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is sometimes felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this point the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts he will "by and by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

The great danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present to some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh of ozoena, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people. Every disease of this kind can be cured by our new system of practice.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the Compound Oxygen and other inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best reference from those already cured.
